Bio

Seek One, a native of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, began writing graffiti at the age of 15 under the name Seek One. After being raised in the graffiti and the skateboard scene, with years of experimenting in different mediums, along with a business and fine art degree, Seek One was born. He rediscovered his love for street art in 2015 when he began to transition to fine art. His work represents a combination of photography and graffiti expressed in a mixed media style deriving influence from pop culture and street styles. The significance behind each piece presents a unique form of authenticity that speaks to all ages and backgrounds. His day to day work focuses on the power of popular culture while also focusing on the process of producing innovative fine art.

Artist Statement

As a contemporary artist, I aim to develop one of one pieces of fine art that bring iconic figures, vintage media and street style into one. My work stems from my background as a graffiti street artist and photographer while also depicting nostalgic influences from my childhood and world travels. Mixed with my obsession with popular culture and its influence on society; this drives me to channel that influence and incorporate it into my work. Blurring the lines between urban culture and fine art has established my unique style of art bringing iconic images and street style together. My goal is to create timeless pieces of fine art that people of all ages can connect with.

“ At 28 years of age, Seek One has succeeded in building his brand to the next level in art and co-branding. In an oversaturated art business what helped him achieve popularity is his unique style of mixed media art. In fact, it is this form of artwork that helped him develop a connection with today’s top-musicians, athletes, and celebrities—all of whom have commissioned his artwork.

His path as a contemporary street artist started with his passion for photography and graffiti art. More importantly, graffiti art has co-branded in lucrative fashion house partnerships as consumers witness a rise in streetwear originating from the shores of sunny California to the runways of Dior, Louis Vuitton and Raf Simons.

What are your “5 things I wish someone told me when I first started”.

- Focus on building your own style and never stop experimenting.
- Being an artist these days requires both creative and business skills to succeed.
- Be careful who you work with. Make sure anyone you partner with has the same intentions for your work as you do.
- Don't focus solely on social media. You are only as strong as your actual network.
- Always remember to create what you love and others will recognize that.

Meet Contemporary Street Artist Seek One

By Alicia W — Last updated Jun 29, 2021

“Seek One is the alias of a Contemporary Street Artist originally from Philadelphia, whose works have been collected worldwide. Seek One’s work combines iconic figures, vintage media and street style into one. With a loyal fanbase, he is represented by galleries all over the US including galleries in The Hamptons, Miami, Aspen and New York City. Moving forward he is set to host his first international show in Dubai with the Galloire Gallery during Fall 2021.

How long have you been an artist?

I’ve been involved in art my whole life but more recently at a professional capacity. I grew up in an urban area (Philadelphia) writing graffiti in the streets. I was also heavily involved in photography. My graffiti tag was Seek One which is why my art today is under the same name, I wanted to keep the authenticity of where my love for art came from. I started Seek One as full time fine artist just 4 years ago.

While names like reality TV personality Jonathan “Foodgod” Chabon, jeweler Richie Rich, and actress Kaley Cuoco have taken his brand mainstream, he’s remained unapologetically hip-hop, evidenced by the incessant nods to graffiti in his art. “I do like the new rap, but I do like to go back to some of my favorites,” Seek One says of his musical tastes, via telephone. “J. Cole is one of my favorite rappers, Kendrick Lamar. I like DaBaby, I think he’s killing it. Curren$, Wiz Khalifa, they’re always favorites. Kind of mellow vibes. Meek [Mill], I could name everyone, I love hip-hop. Drake fucking killed it. Future.”

Having worked with the Philadelphia 76ers organization on multiple campaigns this past year, and a top-secret project with one of rap’s biggest stars in the works, the future looks bright for Seek One, who recently scored a new partnership with MAC Fine Art Galleries, and is looking to expand to Aspen before year’s end.

We spoke with Seek One about channeling his love for hip-hop through art, being commissioned and inspired by rap’s biggest stars, his creative process in the midst of the COVID-19 pandemic, and much more.
